

DR. BRUCE ESKOVITZ

WOODWIND ARTIST

"To play a wrong note is insignificant; to play without passion is inexcusable." - Ludwig van Beethoven

Dr. Bruce Eskovitz

By Thomas Fitzgerald Photos by Mark Maryanovich

Influenced by his father, who was a US Army saxophone player at the Presidio in San Francisco at the end of World War I, Dr. Bruce Eskovitz was 11 when he fell in love with the sound of the tenor saxophone.

By the age of 13, Dr. Bruce's professional playing career began as a member of a youth community orchestra. While other Southern California teenagers tuned in to rock n' roll, Bruce hung out with Sonny Rollins, John Coltrane, and Stan Getz records until he could play their sound.

When Bruce was 20, he was composing music for The Merv Griffin Show. He remembers handing Plas Johnson and Ray Brown his tunes and was encouraged by their positive reaction.

Today, Dr. Bruce plays soprano, alto, and tenor saxophones, flutes, and clarinets, and has performed and recorded with many great and diverse artists and celebrities. These include Joe Cocker, Natalie Cole, Doc Severinsen, Rosemary Clooney, Dwight Yoakum, The Fifth Dimension, Bobby Vinton, and Ernie Watts.

An in-demand jazz artist playing the L.A. jazz club scene, Dr. Bruce performs regularly at Catalina Bar and Grill, Charlie O's, Steamers, Jax Bar and Grill, The Santa Barbara Jazz Festival, Beverly Hills Affaire in the Garden, The Lighthouse, Café 322, Industry Café & Jazz, and Cava.

Some of his other compositional and performance credentials include the Los Angeles productions of Beatlemania and Timbuktu, The John Davidson Show, The Danny Gans Show, The Ebony/Jet Celebrity Showcase, the ABC TV show Santa Barbara, Ollie Mitchell's Sunday Band, Frank Capp's Juggernaut, and The New American Orchestra.

As a music teacher, Dr. Bruce provides compassionate, committed, individualized instruction via ZOOM and in-person at his studio. He accepts all ambitious students at all levels. His sessions last one hour.

- Saxophone
- Clarinet
- Flute
- Jazz Improvisation
- Jazz Composition & Theory
- Arranging & Music Production

"One of my goals with my students is to have them ready and able to improvise without accompaniment, and have the structure and form of the tune clearly known and cleanly executed," says Dr. Bruce, who is director of the instrumental music program at Windward School in West LA.

"Middle and high-school students are very busy with sports

Dr. Bruce Eskovitz

"LEARN TO BURN"

Study Music with an Award-Winning Master Educator & Jazz Artist

Inviting AMBITIOUS Students at all levels

"His teaching displayed a thorough understanding of my individual needs..." - Jordan

"Dr. Bruce ....can demystify complex concepts and provide memorable and meaningful instruction to any student who is committed to learning." - Stephanie

In-Person or Virtual Lessons Available

Saxophone-
Clarinet
& Flute

Jazz
Improvisation

Jazz
Composition & Theory

Arranging and Music Production

Compassionate, Individualized Instruction in:

CONTACT DR. BRUCE:

Studio: 323-610-1111

Email: bruceskov@aol.com

DrBruceJazz.com